“ Dear Lynn,

I am so very sorry for you at this time of loss; words can never capture the pain you and yours must feel; nor do words show the keep support from everyone here at SWG gives you.

Gary, I and you are believed that where there is love there is no separation. In spirit love does not die, that love is forever there looking after us and encouraging us and it will be there ready to receive and guide us when our time comes. To keep us alive we must keep our memories, thoughts, emotions alive. The simple act of thinking kind, loving thoughts truly bonds the physical with the spirit. Love is the only thing that is unconquerable, it indeed survive death.

Feel and own the pain of loss, for it is real and needs to be acknowledged. But, life as part of natures cycle goes on, we cannot stop it, so, honesty and completely accept the loss, but then honor the lost love and life by living with dignity, humility, love and joyful reflection through deeds and memories.

May God bless you and your family and give you the streng to carry on. Gary and I humbling give you my support and. If there is anything we can do; please let us.
